Carine Mou Si Yan is a partner in the Banking and Finance practice group. For over fifteen years, she has advised French and international clients in the finance, energy and real estate sectors.

Admitted in both Paris and New York, Carine offers practical advice on both cross-border and French transactions.

She advises sponsors, lenders and public entities on their financing transactions. She is particularly active in projects involving the development of new energies and infrastructure.

She also advises on real estate financings across virtually all asset classes, including housing, hospitality, office, commercial, data centers, sports and health care facilities.

In addition, Carine has deep experience in restructurings, advising both creditors and debtors in sectors such as real estate, hospitality, transportation, energy and power distribution, and retail.

In the 2020 Legal 500 EMEA guide, a client noted that Carine is “very thorough and competent when dealing with complex files.”
