Lara Graham is an employment law attorney in Orrick's San Francisco office.

Practice Areas

- Complex Litigation & Dispute Resolution

Lara defends companies in class action, multi-plaintiff, and single plaintiff lawsuits under California and federal law. Lara has experience with litigation related to discrimination, pay equity, harassment, wrongful termination, and wage-and-hour claims.

Lara also has extensive pro bono experience representing low-income individuals. Through her pro bono work Lara gained trial experience, representing a pro bono client in federal court, and hearing experience, having argued in multiple state-court hearings on behalf of a pro bono client, and representing asylum seekers in immigration court.

Prior to joining Orrick, Lara served as a law clerk for the Hon. Judge Vanessa Zecher.
